Valentine's Day

On February 14th, you send anonymous cards to the people you love or like.

Roses are red
Violets are blue
Sugar is sweet
And so are you.

Five little hearts, all in a row
The first one says, "I love you so."
The second one says, "Be my Valentine"
The third one says, "Please be mine,"
The fourth one says, "I'll be your friend."
The fifth one says, "Till the very end."

- Listen to the poems. Then read them aloud to memorize them.

Do It Yourself

- Make your own "anti-Valentine" card.

- Write an "anti-Valentine" poem, illustrate it but don't sign it!
- In class, put all the cards in a big box. Pick one: Happy Valentine's Day!!!

Exercises

→ Grammar book p. 148-150

1 Complète ce dialogue avec can, can't, must.

- Mum, ... I watch television?
- No darling, sorry, you ... do your homework.
- Mum, ... I play cards now?
- No, sorry, you ..., it's too late, you ... go to bed.

2 Pendant la visite d'un musée, le professeur rappelle des interdictions. Complète :

"Remember! You ... eat or drink in the museum, and you ... take any photos! And you ... touch the paintings or statues. Be good! Please!"

3 Ben veut aller à l'école à vélo, mais sa mère est très inquiète. Complète leur dialogue avec must, mustn't et can. Lis bien jusqu'au bout avant de commencer.

Ben: Mum, ... I ride my bike to school today?

Mum: No, you can't. It's too dangerous.

Ben: Mum! I'm 12!

Mum: Well, OK, but you ... wear your helmet.

Ben: Yes, mum.

Mum: And you ... ride your bike in the park.

Ben: No, mum. I promise.

Mum: And you ... forget your highway code.

Ben: No, mum.

Mum: Oh, and you ... wear your glasses.

Ben: Yes, mum. ... I go now, mum? It's 8.30!

Mum: OK! Bye! Be careful!

Can I...? (je demande une permission)
 You can't... (je dis que tu ne peux pas...)
 You must... (je dis que tu dois...)
 You mustn't... (je dis que tu ne dois pas...)

4 Remplace les mots soulignés ou les pointillés par des pronoms :

- a) Max must help Crookie.
- b) I can't give my cat Bella any chocolate.
- c) Mrs Finegan loves Max.
- d) "Listen to... . I've got a message for"
- e) Do you want this book?

Pronoms compléments me (pour celui qui parle)
 you (pour la personne à qui on parle)
 him (pour un homme ou un animal familier mâle)
 her (pour une femme ou un animal familier femelle)
 it (pour une chose ou un animal)

5 Pour mémoriser les verbes en t'amusant, joue au "serpent" : la dernière lettre d'un verbe sera la première du suivant. Continue ce serpent en trouvant des verbes qui s'enchaînent. Tu peux ensuite l'illustrer de dessins ou de collages et l'apporter en classe pour le faire remplir par tes camarades.
